SAYS THE WOMAN IS GUILTY.

Walkirez Tries to Send Annie Ross to the Gallows.

Convicted Negro Getting Even on His Accuser.

The preliminary examination was begun today in the case of Annie Ross, the white woman accused of being an accomplice of Victor Walkirez, the negro murderer of aged Elizabeth Leroy. Judge Samuel heard the testimony of Captain of Police Peters, Detective Denny Holland and Detective G. D. Kite, as well as that of the convicted murderer, Walkirez, who is serving a life sentence.

Annie Ross, the accused woman, was present and was represented by H. W. Robinson, a peppery legal gentleman, hailing from Kentucky, who objected frequently to questions.

The police captain's story, as well as those of the detectives, was merely a recital of Mrs. Ross's confession at the time she first came before the police. The testimony of Walkirez was the absorbing occurrence of the examination.

The negro told his story very slowly and in a voice so low that at times it was scarcely audible and he frequently was required to repeat. His manner of telling the details of the occurrences of the 4th, 5th and 6th of May was so simply done as to be almost childish at times.

There is little doubt that his mind is nearly as weak as his memory proved to be frequently.

The witness when put on the stand said his name was Victor Walkirez, though he sometimes was called Walkirez. His testimony was as follows:

"In February or March of this year, I cannot remember exactly which month, I came to Oakland with Mrs. Ross. We had been living together in Lathrop and that neighborhood for quite a long time.

"We arrived at Lathrop station and I left Annie Ross at a neighboring house, the Dudley place, while I went to seek shelter for the night. At Mrs. Leroy's I found lodgings.

The following day Walkirez went to San Francisco, he said, and when he returned, Mrs. Ross met him and told him in secret that she had found out that Mrs. Leroy had money in a small satchel, and suggested that Walkirez by some means possess himself of the money.

"I told her," said Walkirez, "that I didn't want to take the old lady's money, and that I would surely be caught if I tried it, for I didn't know how to steal and keep myself safe from being found out."

"Mrs. Ross said I was a fool if I didn't get that money and she said I might give some dope to Mrs. Leroy and put her to sleep and then we could get the money.

"But I told her I didn't want to do any such thing for $17, which was the amount she had discovered in the old woman's grip. I said I was expecting my pension to come at almost any day, and I didn't want to run the chance of getting into trouble for a sum like $17.

"Then Mrs. Ross got angry and called me a fool again, and suggested that I could knock Mrs. Leroy out with something and we could have that money just as well as not. But I said I would not do it.

In answering the questions referring to the night the murder was committed, Walkirez said:

"In the evening Mrs. Leroy, Mrs. Ross and I were in the sitting-room of Mrs. Leroy's house. Mrs. Leroy was reading and Mrs. Ross was lying on the couch. I had been drinking a good deal during the day and was not feeling well, so I said I was going to bed. Mrs. Ross several times motioned me to get Mrs. Leroy's grip which was near the table, but I paid no attention to her, though I knew what she meant.

"I went into our bedroom and undressed and went to bed. After a time Mrs. Ross came in and asked me to take a drink with her. She too had been drinking during the day and was pretty well intoxicated by bed time. When she awakened me to have a drink, I said I had had enough, but she insisted, so I finally drank what she gave me in the glass. After that I know nothing more until 4 o'clock the next morning, when Mrs. Ross awakened me by shaking me. She told me I had killed Mrs. Leroy during the night. At first I thought she was joking me, but when I looked in Mrs. Leroy's room and did not find her

FAILURE.

Big Wings Like a Bird
Did Not Work
Right.

Machine Skipped on the Air and Dashed
Into Water.

WIDEWATER, Virginia, October 7.—An unsuccessful attempt was made today to launch the Langley flying machine.

The machine at no time seemed to travel under its own motive power, but only went with the momentum it received from the launching power.

Professor Langley, who was in the machine, was not injured but he received a ducking. When the machine struck the water it disappeared, but only for a moment. The five empty conical-shaped floats did their function well and the aerodrome was soon floating on the water.

The machine went about 100 yards and is a complete wreck.

The initial momentum, the lightness of the machine and the sustaining surface of the wings furnished conditions for the transit of the machine from the sixty-foot elevation to the water, just as a slight piece of board skims a small distance in the air. Within ten minutes the tugs were pulling away at the debris. Professor Langley climbed into a rowboat and was conveyed to the deck of the tug Bartholdi, where he put on dry clothes. He gave out the following statement:

"It must be understood that the test today was entirely an experiment and the first of its kind ever made. The experiment was unsuccessful. The balancing on which depended the success of the model and proved to be incorrect, but only actual trial of the full-sized machine itself could determine that. My confidence in the future success of the work is unchanged. I have no other information to give. I shall make a formal report."

The big bird's wings, which had extended 12x22 feet, were hanging limp and bunglesome by the side of the frame; the propellers were smashed to rags and splinters; the rudder was a wreck and the wire framework was a tangled mass.

The main body of the aerodrome was badly damaged but not beyond repair. The motor, which was tested by Professor Manley, reached 1200 revolutions a minute and the work was uninterrupted.

It was noon exactly when all was cleared for action.

BEAVERS ON TRIAL.

NEW YORK, October 7.—The examination of George W. Beavers on the first Washington indictment, charging him with complicity in an alleged conspiracy with the Postal Service and Improvement Company of California, was commenced today before United States Commissioner Hitchcock. Beavers was not present, being represented by counsel.

The certified copy of the indictment having already been offered in evidence by the prosecution and proof of the identity of the defendant being waived by his counsel, the prosecution informed the defense that it considered this, under Commissioner Hitchcock's ruling a prima facie case and that it expected to put in no further evidence on the removal proceedings on this indictment. The defense then called to the witness stand Postoffice Inspector Weyland, who signed the complaint against Beavers.

There I got frightened and began to cry. Mrs. Ross then took me down into the cellar and showed me the bundle beside a big box. I looked at it closely enough to recognize Mrs. Leroy's head, but didn't untie the bundle, which was done up like a Chinaman's wash. I was too nervous and done up to examine very closely.

"Then Mrs. Ross said I'd be found out unless I buried the body quickly, and she told me how to do it. I can't remember whether anyone helped me bury the body or not."

He then told of the manner of the burial and the fixing of the earth and floor as it was later found by the police. Walkirez said that he was well posted by Annie Ross what he was to say in case they were arrested and he followed her directions. His testimony at all times was intended to save the woman from suspicion and to take all the guilt to himself, he said.

The examination adjourned for noon recess, and resumed at 2 p. m.

Complete Story of the Boxall Shooting Given to the Jury.

The taking of testimony was commenced today in the contested will case of the late capitalist, Charles R. Lloyd, of Berkeley who died a few months ago in Japan, in Judge Ellsworth's department of the Superior Court with Judge Hall presiding.

The jury secured yesterday to try the case is as follows: W. D. Thomas, W. Berry, Carl Bertin, R. Wland, H. W. Prall, W. J. Smith, E. Kirchhoff, W. P. Larrabee, C. B. Rice, Seymour Johnson, M. Donohue and E. C. Bridgeman.

OPENING STATEMENT.

In opening the case to the jury, Attorney Waters of counsel for the complainant, Fred W. Lloyd, said that the contest was the result of a will which had been written by the deceased. That will, he declared, was the result of excesses against the law of both God and man which could not result in any other manner than insanity. That will had disinherited the complainant, and, in reading it, the jurors could come to only one conclusion and that was that the maker of it was insane.

When the speaker had first read the will, it was not apparent to him that the maker was insane. That impression came to him only after reading it a second time. To understand that document, it had to be read between the lines when the sentiment and rhythm would produce the conviction that the maker of the document was insane.

READS THE WILL.

Waters then read the will, showing that the author of the instrument had purposely failed to make any provision for his son, Fred W. Lloyd, the complainant.

The will had been filed August 10, 1903. On August 27, the complainant filed an opposition to the probate of the document by Fred W. Lloyd, the oldest son of the deceased on the ground that the deceased, at the time of the making of the will was insane.

The contest set forth that the deceased had lost his first wife, the mother of the complainant by means of a divorce which the wife had secured from the capitalist. After the divorce, Lloyd secured as a housekeeper one Lole Ellen Wilkinson with whom he had lived in a promiscuous manner. Thereafter, it is alleged that when the capitalist married his second wife, the marriage was celebrated notwithstanding the new wife was aware of the life which Lloyd had been living with various women in his home in this city.

WOMEN IN THE CASE.

The complainant also showed that he objected to this objectionable conduct on the part of his father, and that he thus aroused the enmity of the second wife and Lole Ellen Wilkinson and caused them to influence the capitalist against his son to such a degree as to disinherit him in his will.

A denial of the charge in the complaint was read in behalf of Mary R. Lloyd and Lole Ellen Wilkinson, the proponents of the will.

Continuing his opening statement, Waters said he had taken the pains to cull out of a voluminous life of the deceased a number of delusions which had been the cause of the making of the will, the conclusion from which would be inevitable.

One of these delusions was that Lloyd believed it was wrong for him to wrong his female blood relations. This he excused on the ground that his prophetic power had to be destroyed by an operation by certain surgeons, when, in fact, no such operation had been performed.

He also believed that his son had a letter charging him with unchastity when in fact no such letter ever existed.

He also believed, it is claimed, that his son had Lloyd arrested when, in fact, the son was 500 miles away at the time.

He also held that his son Fred was a failure in life when it is claimed that the latter was an expert electrician and capable of making his living with the most skilled in his calling.

LLOYD'S APPOINTMENTS.

Counsel then referred to Lloyd's apartments on Clay street in this city, where two of the deceased's sister's daughters whom he had brought here as a protector, were victims of his profligacy. Lloyd provided for them with the understanding that they should comply with his wishes. These relations were continued up until 1896 when Lloyd took up a residence in Berkeley. There the relationship was continued at intervals, until the scene was changed to the residence of Lloyd near San Bernardino, when they terminated in 1900.

A great deal of this would be proven by direct and some by indirect testimony.

NOTORIOUS CONDUCT.

This conduct became so notorious that the wonder was the collapse did not come more quickly than it did. It culminated in exposure on January 15, 1903. From the time of the partial disclosure, until the first exposure, the brother of one of these Boxall girls shot Mr. Lloyd. From January 15th to January 30th, events crowded upon themselves. They were the natural outgrowth of what had preceded.

With respect to the alleged injury to Lloyd's procreative faculties, short testimony would be introduced to show that he was laboring under a delusion, by the alleged surgical operation which had never taken place.

NO LETTER.

The speaker said he would show that the son had never had any letter with which he threatened to disclose his father's profligacy and that the father had never been so informed. The idea of a letter was simply a delusion.

SON'S ARREST.

With respect to the alleged insanity of the son, counsel said the latter was in Berkeley and that the father was in San Bernardino, from which latter place, without any reason whatever, the father sent a telegram to Berkeley ordering the arrest of his son on the charge of insanity. The son was arrested but no complaint or no prosecution followed. The son, counsel claimed, was no more insane then than he was as he appeared today before the jury in court.

Mr. Goodfellow, counsel for the proponents of the will, asked if it was not a fact that that telegram had been sent Postmaster Kelley.

Mr. Waters said he would not quibble on such a matter. He knew Mr. Kelley and that gentlemen would not send a telegram signing Mr. Lloyd's name to it without knowing what he was doing.

Counsel then showed that the complainant, Fred W. Lloyd, had followed his father's business, and that the only one who was an outcast of kindred in blood and association, was the only one who ever earned a dollar.

THE SPENDERS.

"The others," said Waters, "who have had this immense fortune left to them were the spenders. We will show that while this man who, with working clothes on and who nearly lost his sight, was earning money, these spenders were reveling in Lloyd's money with their bottles of champagne on the table. This boy, they say, is unworthy of his father's money, unworthy of his father's love and worthy only of his father's curse."

"We will show you that at one of these times the father appreciated the son. It was when a plant of the father was on the instant of being blown into atoms. A steam pipe had burst on the top of the boiler, the employees skurrying here and there. Lloyd himself stood speechless. It was then Fred was appreciated. Fred stepped through the cloud of steam and turned off the escaping vapor. It was then the father said, 'Fred will get along. He has nerve.' And yet, he has been disinherited, and for whom? We will show you."

ONLY A DELUSION.

Counsel then said that the idea of Lloyd that his son Fred intended to kill him in order to get all his money was also a delusion. This showed that one barrier after another had been

EMPORIA, Kansas, Oct. 7.—A special to the Globe from Hamilton, Kansas, says:

The worst tornado in years passed west of Hamilton last night, leaving death and destruction in its wake. Three persons are known to have been killed and ten seriously injured.

The dead.

EDITH BAILEY, daughter of W. E. W. Bailey.

Mr. Gillman, father of Mrs. John Bailey.

UNKNOWN MAN.

Seriously injured:

W. E. W. Bailey and his two sons and two daughters, one son, Ollie, probably fatally hurt.

E. S. Manis and wife.

Five distinct funnel-shaped clouds formed at about the same time, within a radius of eight miles. The two largest of the clouds, accompanied by a terrific wind, traveled over a strip about a quarter of a mile in width and is said to have caused enormous destruction to property and crops.

Nine houses are known to have been destroyed. Wires are down and details are meagre.

JURY DID NOT CENSURE.

BUREKA, Ill., Oct. 7.—A coroner's jury called to inquire into the death of Charles Lowe, one of the victims of the wreck on the San Francisco and Northwestern road, near Fortuna, on Monday morning, failed to fix the responsibility for the accident. The testimony showed a misunderstanding of the orders and rules of the company, the train crews interpreting the rules one way and the trainmaster another.

MAKING PLEA FOR UNCLE SAM.

LONDON, October 7.—Jacob M. Dickinson, of American counsel, though now on the fourth day of his speech, resumed his argument before the American Boundary Commission this morning in a brilliant voice. He continued his argument as to the meaning of the word "coast" as employed in the treaty and in the negotiations. All sides admitted that Mr. Dickinson is making an excellent summing up for the United States. He deals minutely with each point raised in the speeches of Attorney General Finlay, Solicitor-General Carson and Christopher Robins, K. C., of Canadian counsel, elaborating to refute by means of countless references to legal authorities and continues to add the members of the commission and other auditors. Interspersing his argument with humorous and other illustrations which are listened to with evident pleasure by Attorney-General Finlay and other opposing counsel; and by the commissioners themselves.

Mr. Dickinson emphasized the American contention on the meaning of the word "coast" and concluded the morning session with declaring there could be no doubt, judging from the maps, that the coast line must run as claimed by the United States.

Mr. McCormick, the United States Ambassador at St. Petersburg was among those present at the proceedings today.

BIGGEST INDIANS IN THE WORLD.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—The details of an expedition to Patagonia to enlist the co-operation of the Chief of the Tehuelche Indian tribe, known since the time of Magellan as the most gigantic people in the world, has been arranged by Dr. W. J. McGee, chief of the department of anthropology in the course of a recent trip to Pittsburgh and Washington. The indications are that Chief Maithe will come to the United States with his family, including his son-in-law and another group of heroic stature will accompany him.

Dr. Tardieu H. Bean, chief of forestry, fisheries and game, has returned from New York where he met the New York Commission for the World's Fair. He reports that the commission decided to make exhibits in his department and appropriated $15,000 for the purpose.

Specimens of all the food and game of New York State will be mounted by a new process, which will show the natural colors of the fish. The commission will also have a live fish exhibit which will include all the varieties in the fish hatcheries in the State. New York is the seventh State to apply for space for a live fish exhibit. The other States are New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Washington, Minnesota and Missouri.

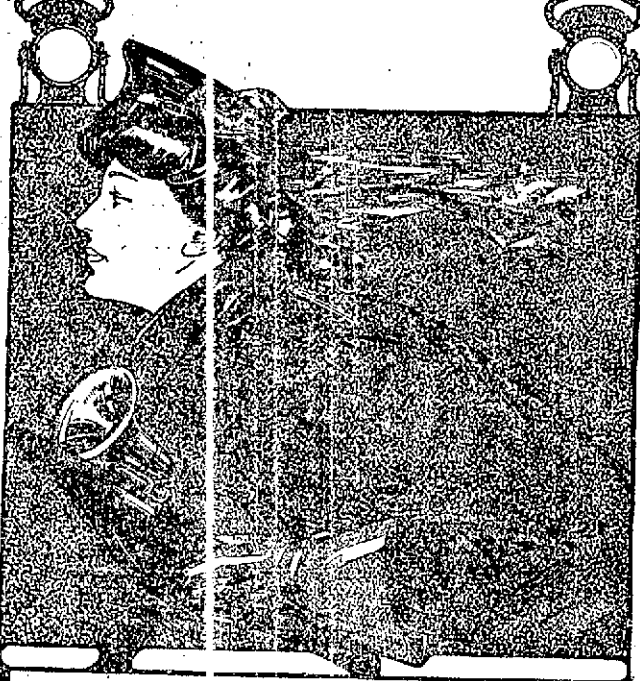

S. T. Whitaker, Utah's Commissioner of exhibits, let a contract today for the erection of that State's pavilion. The building is to cost $30,000.

ALL IS QUIET NOW IN CUBA.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Eduardo Yere, Cuban secretary of government in the Cabinet of President Palma, who has come here to undergo an operation for throat affection, accompanied the president on his recent tour of the island. He says the party was enthusiastically received everywhere. "To prove it," he said, "I saw grounds were the stories of opposition to the government by the veterans of the revolution, the president rode about in the most deserted parts of the country without military escort. We were assured by the former revolutionists that neither the failure to pay their wages nor any other cause could induce them ever to make an attempt at insurrection. They are sincere, thorough patriots and will never take any action which will endanger the institutions which they created by suffering and sacrifice."

EBELL LADIES MEET.

THEY WILL NOT BE IN A HURRY IN DECIDING ON NEW SITE.

The Ebell Society met yesterday afternoon to discuss the question of renewal of the lease of their present club rooms as well as to listen to and discuss the report of the Committee on Site and Building.

Owing to the fact that M. Reed could not be present at the meeting as was expected, the club members could take no definite action upon the subject of renewing the lease of their present quarters.

Mrs. Paul Lohse, Mrs. E. M. Walsh, Miss Evelyn Craig, Mrs. T. L. Barker and Mrs. Prentiss Selby, constituting the Site and Building Committee, submitted their report, which included a long list of options given the society.

The society resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole and in informal discussion the comparative advantages of the different sites for the proposed new club rooms, as to the price and terms of purchase.

No definite action or vote will be taken with regard to the matter until the next meeting of the club at the earliest, and possibly not until a month will have elapsed.

The Ebell ladies are desirous of giving the subject deliberate attention and of making the choice of site for the new building the very best available.

Ebell decided to take no stand as a body regarding the Mayor's movement for the city's improvement and beautification. However, most of the club members are inclined to favor Mr. Olney's plan, and many will interest themselves in the work as individuals but not as Ebell Club members.

The ladies of Ebell are proudly displaying their recently adopted insignia of membership in their club. The pins are artistic in design as well as beautiful and ingenious in the manner of being the smallest size ever appearing in the history of the sentiment.

Of the many designs submitted to the committee from which to choose, the work of Miss Edna Deacon seemed to be the best, and in consequence, was adopted.

Miss Deacon is the daughter of the noted Berkeley artist, Edwin Deacon, and is a specialist in the work of heraldic designs.

The Ebell pin is perhaps three-quarters of an inch across. In the center is the lozenge shield, that insignia belonging solely and necessarily to women, individually or collectively, who wish to bear arms.

The quarters of the shield are in two shades of blue, denoting the diversity of the club's interests and pursuits. The whole is surrounded by a perfect circle, the symbol of unity. Across the top of the golden circle is the date of the club's founding by Dr. Adrian Ebell. This date, so displayed, distinguishes the Oakland Ebell Club from other organizations of the same name throughout the State.

GAS COMPANY WAS NOT IN CONTEMPT.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 7.—Judge De Haven of the United States District Court denied the petition of H. P. Fetterman, trustee in bankruptcy of the estate of L. A. Conradt & Son, that the Oakland Gas Light and Heat Company be cited to appear in court and show cause why it should not be punished for contempt in destroying certain property. Fetterman claimed that the corporation tore down certain fences and outhouses of which, as a trustee, he had the control. The company claimed to own the property.

OPERA COMPANY AT THE MACDONOUGH.

The engagement of Pollard's Lilliputian Opera Company at the Macdonough Theatre is a success. Since his last appearance in this city the company has traveled extensively throughout the coast and made a big hit everywhere. Little Dapine Pollard is now the brightest star of the organization and has the distinction of being the smallest star ever appearing upon the stage. The company has many new principals and a new chorus and the repertoire has been strengthened radically by the addition of new operas. Popular prices, 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents prevail. Seats now on sale for the entire week, and Saturday matinee.

TROOPS IN REVIEW.

CAMP YOUNG, WEST POINT, Ky., October 7.—Ten thousand troops passed in review before the division staff, the Governors of Kentucky and Indiana, the visiting army officers and a great crowd of spectators today. The review demonstrated that while the State troops participating in the maneuvers have more than average proficiency in battle formations, they are still better in close order drill and the manual of arms.

WRECKED BY TORNADO

TOPEKA, Kas., October 7.—News has reached here of a disastrous tornado to farm property last evening at the Bar Creek settlement, twelve miles southeast of Topeka. Several farm houses and barns were destroyed, trees were blown down and corn shocks and hay stacks of the farms scattered all over the neighborhood. So far as has been learned, no one has been injured.

238 SALOONS REPORTED IN CITY.

The report of City Treasurer Felton Taylor presented to the Council Monday night, shows that the amount of money on hand and received in his office during the month of September was $85,219.71. There was disbursed $24,413.81, and the city commenced business on the first of October with $60,805.90.

The Finance Oakland citizen ought to have no trouble in finding a place to quench it, because the report of city auditors Monday night told the city Council that there were, as reported by officers who patrol the beats, 238 licensed saloons in the city.

Poundmaster Zabel reported having impounded during September 227 dogs, 2 horses, 3 cows, 1 sheep. The cash sales for stock sold was $114.50.

BATTLESHIP SERIOUSLY DAMAGED.

NEW YORK, October 7.—It has been found at the New York Navy Yard that the battleship Massachusetts, which ran on the rocks near Bay Harbor while on her way to Oyster Bay for the recent naval maneuvers, not only broke some of the plates in her forward compartments, but seriously damaged the after end of her keel. The ship's "heel," a large steel casing, was broken, and a new one probably will have to be cast. The work is likely to require several months.

An Important Move is Made to Irrigate Lands.

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Oct. 7.—The most important move ever made here in the interest of irrigation was made today when a bill for the reclamation of the United States, filed on four million miners inches of water for use in this county and vicinity. The document filed with the Riverside County Recorder

This afternoon is as follows:

Notice is hereby given that Edmond T. Laramie, acting as the authorized representative of the United States, by the Secretary of the Interior, for and on behalf of the United States of America, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved March 3, 1902, claims at the point where this notice is posted, all the unappropriated water of the Colorado River, both surface and overflow, to the extent of 100,000 cubic feet per second, for the purpose of irrigating the lands of the United States. The point where this notice is posted is described as "at a point of rocks known as Black Point, in California, about 10 miles from the mouth of the Township five south, range 24 east, San Bernardino meridian."

That said water is claimed for irrigation, manufacturing purposes, water power, domestic use and for other special uses, and the terminus and place of extending use is in the valley extending from said point along the Colorado river to the mouth of the Colorado and along the line of the proposed Colorado River Dam, the proposed Colorado River Dam.

Notice is hereby given that the records on file in the office of the register and ex-officio clerk of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of San Bernardino, show that the said Laramie is a native of France, thirty-seven years of age. Murder is the charge, and Detective Harry Reynolds is the officer who arrested the said Laramie. It was Detective Reynolds who was sent to the Jordan home immediately after the murder of the man who found Marie Jordan dead, and Laramie, apparently dying, lying upon the floor of the room in which the body of the Jordan residence, and it was he who first picked up the revolver Laramie dropped and shot at the defenseless Marie, and to send a bullet into his own brain.

LYNCHERS IDENTIFIED.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., October 7.—The Grand Jury here today has returned a joint indictment against twenty-five members of a mob charged with the murder of a colored man.

Counsel said that he jury would be told that a Japanese cook had shot at Lloyd in his house. He admitted that that shot had been fired, but he could not explain why. It was significant, however, that a short time before the firing of that shot, the cook had been sent south by Mr. Lloyd to cook at a certain wedding because he was a good cook and that Fred Lloyd had gone with him and had remained there for a number of weeks. It was significant that a short time after the Jap's return from the visit with Fred that the shot was fired.

The defendant was also addicted to speaking disparagingly of women's virtue. All the women who had entered the case, had been unwantonly branded, counsel said.

AS A DETECTIVE.

Counsel then introduced a letter which was written eleven years ago and signed by Fred. It spoke of the detailed use of a liquor of some kind by Lloyd to get deponent under control. Witness had also accompanied Lloyd to San Francisco.

Later, Lloyd went to the home of the girl and told her that he was a

Counsel further stated that when Fred was giving his deposition, the latter was asked as to what he thought of the woman in question, and replied:

Counsel then stated that the case was an insult to him, an insult to the court and an insult to twelve jurors.

It took twelve innings to do it, but Pete Lehman's Recruits started the new series with the right foot forward and won the game by a score of 7 to 4, scoring three in the twelfth. There were a number of errors on both sides and the Oakland players made plenty of hits. Graham was very effective when he could locate the plate, but in trying to do the latter he allowed eight men to walk, besides hitting two.

The opening game of the second week's series between the leaders and Stars, which occurred on this side of the bay yesterday afternoon, was won by San Francisco in the first inning when they fell on Hall for three hits and as many runs. Hall pitched a good game, but did not allow another man to get as far as second and only allowed one hit in the remaining eight innings. It was the late, however, for the mischief was already done and the game lost, for little Lindsey pitched a star game for Harris and kept the Angels from scoring at all, allowing them but four hits. Both teams played a good fielding game and it was interesting from the spectator's point of view.

The Senators continued their losing streak by losing the first game of the series to Seattle yesterday afternoon. The run column was equalled by the error column, both being 7 to 6 and in each case Seattle had the big end. The trouble with the law-makers was that they would strike out every time a hit was needed. Lindsey pitched a good game, but did not allow another man to get as far as second and only allowed one hit in the remaining eight innings. It was the late, however, for the mischief was already done and the game lost, for little Lindsey pitched a star game for Harris and kept the Angels from scoring at all, allowing them but four hits. Both teams played a good fielding game and it was interesting from the spectator's point of view.

Pee Wee Lindsey has recovered from the injury to his salary arm and signalled his return into the game by white-washing the Angels yesterday afternoon. He was very effective when he could locate the plate, but in trying to do the latter he allowed eight men to walk, besides hitting two.

Messersly made a star play in the eleventh inning of yesterday's game and saved his team from defeat. After Graham had walked two and they had been sacrificed to second and third, Francisco hit Lindsey for three hits and as many runs. Lindsey pitched a good game, but did not allow another man to get as far as second and only allowed one hit in the remaining eight innings. It was the late, however, for the mischief was already done and the game lost, for little Lindsey pitched a star game for Harris and kept the Angels from scoring at all, allowing them but four hits. Both teams played a good fielding game and it was interesting from the spectator's point of view.

Now that Wheeler is out of the game on suspension for ten days, Dillon is playing second and Spies covers first. This puts young Eager behind the bat and so far he has been conducting himself like a National League star. He had four chances yesterday and secured them all, and in addition to this he made one of the Angels' four hits.

Portland's new first baseman is named Freeman and he played his first game yesterday. He showed up well with the stick, but contributed three to the error column out of seventeen chances.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—John Decker of Norwich, Conn., who evidently is a mechanic, about 44 years old, entered the White House soon after the doors were opened this morning. The officials thought from his actions that he was a crank and arrested him. He was turned over to the police authorities.

His injuries were so bad that it will probably be several months before the patient will be able to get up again.

FRUITVALE MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Fruitvale Property Owners' Association, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Armory Hall, at Fruitvale Avenue and East Sixteenth street. The matters to come up for consideration will be the establishing of electric street lights and the stand the association is to take on the question of annexation to Oakland. A large attendance is expected.

PLAN A BENEFIT FOR HEARTHER.

INJURED WHEELMAN WILL BE ASSISTED BY FELLOW CLUB MEMBERS.

Emil Heather, popularly known among his brother cyclists as "The Flying Dutchman," will be the recipient of a benefit to be arranged by the Oakland Wheelmen on Thursday evening, October 8, in Foresters' Hall, corner of Thirteenth and Clay streets.

Heather was injured while employed at his trade recently in Alameda. He was one of the workmen employed in moving a house and was caught under a falling wall. His spine was so injured that it will be months before he can resume work at his trade.

The entire proceeds of the Thursday evening benefit will be presented to the injured wheelman, by his sympathetic club members.

A musical and literary program has been arranged, the numbers of which include: Choir songs, Leo Gilbert's recitation, Miss Archibald's soprano solo, Miss Grace S. Kiltavill, piano solo, William E. Wulff, rag-time selections (piano), Lennie Clark, parodies (George F. Powers), selections, Mandolin and guitar quartet, bicycle polo game, Oakland Wheelmen vs. New Century Wheelmen, dancing.

Following the program, there will be a bicycle polo match in which the Oakland Wheelmen and the New Century Wheelmen of San Francisco will be the combatants.

This unique feature of the entertainment is the second of such a match ever played on this coast. The first was played at Sunset Park on August 16 last, and was won by the Oakland Wheelmen from the Bay City Wheelmen, giving the Oakland team the championship of the Pacific Coast.

GIRLS WILL BE ATHLETES.

STANFORD CO-EDS PLAN FOR BOATING AND ATHLETIC TEAMS.

The generous influx of Eastern girls has roused the longing in the Stanford girl athletes to emulate the Eastern college girls by becoming proficient in the many sports of boating, handball and hockey.

Plans for getting a barge were announced at the last meeting of the Women's Athletic Association and it is hoped that when the rains make Saginaw lake in better condition, the girls will have a boating crew in training as well as will the boys. Professor A. W. Smith, who coaches the oarsmen on the lake, will probably find some surplus time which may be devoted to coaching the girls in their handling of the oars.

There seems every reason that the new forms of athletics should become as popular in the West as they are in the Eastern colleges and to make the interest general and widespread, the girls were urged to make membership open to all Stanford women students irrespective of their belonging to the gymnasium classes or not.

HIGHBALL MAY

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 7.—W. F. Scherel, owner of Highball, has offered to match his horse against McChesney's "Water Boy" at one mile, weight for age. Mr. Scherel says a side bet of $25,000 can be given.

LOOK AFTER ANIMALS.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Oakland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was held at the office of the society, 1003 1/2 Broadway, last evening. The reports of the officers show a more flourishing condition than at any time for the past year and a half, the collections of dues and subscriptions for the past six months being sufficient not only to pay the current expenses but $263.75 from the last fiscal year.

It was a red letter meeting for the election of new members, thirty-one applicants being elected to active membership, easily beating all previous records.

The secretary reported that fifty-four complaints of cruelty had been made during the past month, which had resulted in five arrests and four convictions, with one case still pending. That the total amount of fines imposed was $35, and that in one instance sentence was suspended upon the suggestion of the officers of the society because of the destitution of the defendant.

The new ambulance is completed and will be formally presented to the society as soon as arrangements can be made with Mrs. A. F. Holland, through whose efforts the money was raised for its construction. It is the intention of the board to have the presentation public.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Batatrice Edna Griffin filed a complaint in the County Clerk's office this morning bringing suit against Ed G. Griffin for divorce. The grounds upon which the decree is asked is desertion. The couple were married in Kansas in October, 1893, and have a daughter 8 years of age.

WANTS ESTATE DISTRIBUTED.

R. M. Ball filed his first and final account of the estate of Sophie Levine Ball, deceased, this morning and at the same time petitioned for the distribution of the estate to him. The estate consisted of a small amount of stocks and money besides two lots situated in the city of Los Angeles.

ASKS FOR MORE WEIGHT.

MILLETT WANTS WOODS TO RAISE WEIGHT LIMIT FOR MEETING.

There is a slight hitch in the agreement between Joe Millett and Billy Woods, who are scheduled to meet before the Rollance Athletic Club on the evening of October 27, but it is not thought that it will interfere with the match being finally consummated. As yet the men have not signed the articles of agreement, and before he affixes his signature to the papers Millett wants the weight limit increased by three pounds at least.

Millett has stated positively that he cannot make the mark of 165 pounds, the weight first agreed upon, and his manager, Cohen, met a representative of Bishop, who is managing Woods, and asked that the weight be fixed at 165 pounds at 3 o'clock. A telegram was immediately sent to Bishop, who is now in the north with Herrera and Woods and a reply is expected this evening.

Cohen believes he has the best light heavy-weight in the business. "There is one thing I know," he said yesterday, "and that is Millett could whip George Gardner at any time he wanted to win. The Easterner was here training for his various battles."

"Had he signed for the bout with Gus Rublin he would have shown people his high class by putting the German out in a minute."

"Why do you not challenge Kid Carter?" was asked.

"I have done so," responded Cohen, "and the Kid refuses to meet Millett."

DISPOSES OF KEHOE IN TWO ROUNDS AT OLYMPIC CLUB.

A number of amateur boxing bouts were held at the Olympic Club gymnasium last evening under the auspices of the Pacific Athletic Association and they were in the nature of a preliminary tr-out for places on the team which will represent California in the Olympic games at St. Louis next year.

The main event was a go between 165-pound men, George Finnegan and Ed Kehoe, and was won by the former quite decisively in two rounds. Kehoe demonstrated that he was a clever little fellow but no match for his more clever opponent. Kehoe was sent to the floor in the first round and twice in the second, and his seconds ended the suspense by throwing in the towel.

Barney Driscoll and Harry Timmy put up four rounds of fast and exciting fighting and the former was given the decision. Joe Kelly succumbed to Billy Hampshire in one round and three rounds was enough for Jack Adams to knock Tom Sullivan out. Jim Leary lost the decision to Joe Niderost and James McConn went down and out in the second round of his go with James St. Clair.

J. O. KEENE IS

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—It has been learned that J. O. Keene, the American trainer, now in Russia, and James R. Keane, has secured control for a term of years of the great English-bred stallion, Gattee More. The horse is the property of the Russian government, which paid the English owners $100,000 for him after he had won the three great classics of the British turf—Derby, St. Leger and Two Thousand guinea stakes.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Fredrick T. Adams, banker and broker, has resigned as commodore of the Lamont Yacht Club, one of the leading clubs on Long Island Sound. He has occupied the office since 1901, and has given many valuable prizes for club races during his term of office.

PRINCE OF PILSEN.

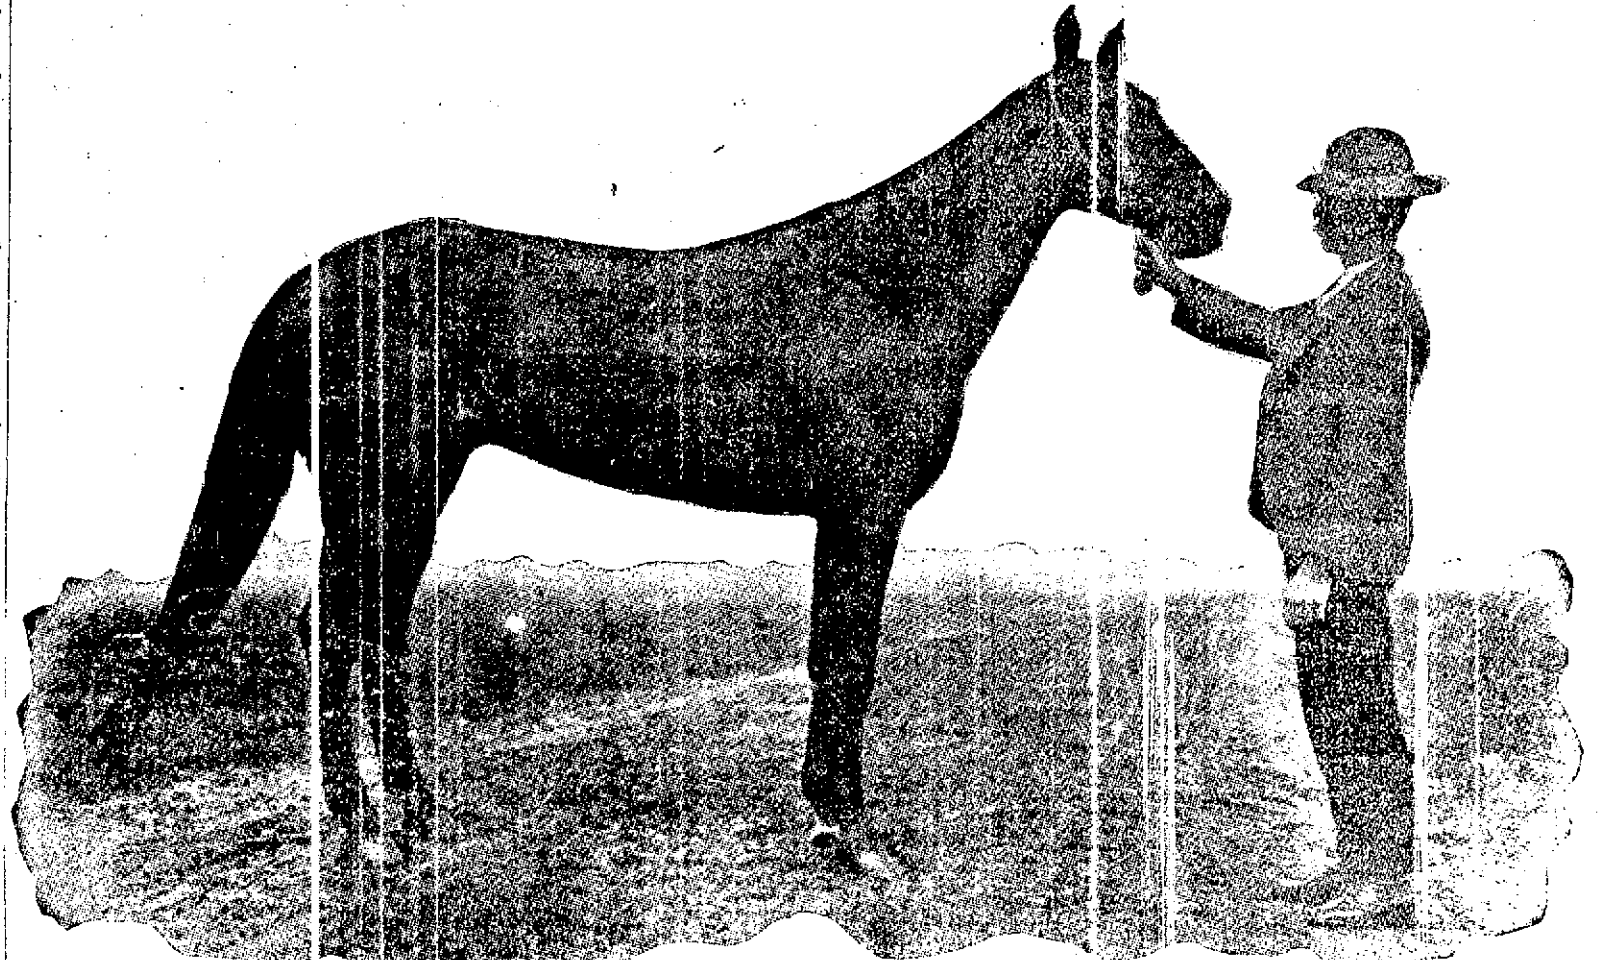

Henry V. Savage's "Prince of Pilsen," the Pixley & Luders musical comedy that kept all New York in an uproariously good humor or five months, began its Western tour across the continent in August. A four weeks' run in Chicago, closing on August 29th, was the second that the "Prince of Pilsen" had in that city, the first being for four months, during both of which horse records were broken. The splendid production will be seen here at the exposition and said he regretted he could not go to the United States, but he hoped that Crown Prince Gustaf would represent him at St. Louis.

SAN FRANCISCO CLUB HAS STAR
ATTRACTION FOR THIS MONTH.

On Friday evening, October 16, Jimmy Britt, the premier lightweight boxer of the Pacific Coast, and Charles Seger, the "iron man," who last night won a month ago, are to box twenty rounds in Mechanics' pavilion under the auspices of the San Francisco Athletic Club.

The pair have agreed to weigh-in at 133 pounds ridside. Seger is at present conditioning himself at Sacher's ocean beach tavern, and Britt is laboring at Croll's Alameda.

That this contest will be well worth seeing is proven by the past performances of these men in the ring. Britt has defeated such time-honored boxers as Frank Erne, Fitzgibbon, "Kid" Lavender, Tony Irwin and others. He is a fast, aggressive worker in the ring and always keeps his man on the move.

The latter is known throughout the boxing world as the "iron man." He is the husky lightweight who fought two draws with Joe Gans, and lost to Mike Sager. Sager is a strong fellow and can punch like a mule kicking.

There will be two good preliminaries. Francis Raphael, who is acting as Britt's sparring partner, is to go against Gus Salsburg, a well-known lightweight of San Francisco.

The betting on the contest will not open until next week. At this time it is apparent that Britt will be installed favorite. However, many will back Seger as they know he has never been knocked out. He says Mike Turner hits the hardest blow in the business and Mike has the edge on him. Seger is making lots of friends out here and will be backed heavily.

DEATH CALLS
BROTHER PETER.

After a long life, most of which was devoted to the cause of popular education, Brother Peter, a member of the Order of the Christian Brothers, died at Martinez Tuesday last. The deceased was a native of Kildare, Ireland, and became a Christian Brother in 1870. For many years he taught rhetoric and literature in St. Mary's College and St. Joseph's Academy. He is to be buried from Villa de La Salie, Martinez, Thursday morning.

SHIPBUILDING CASE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Hearing in the case of Rolland Coklin and others of the Bondholders Protective Committee against the United States Shipbuilding Company was resumed today before Henry D. Chapman, special United States Examiner. The hearing opened Monday when the counsel in the matter entered their appearance and Delroy Dresser was sworn as the first witness.

The complainants, who are stockholders and owners of a portion of the first mortgage bonds of the United States Shipbuilding Company, charge fraud and mismanagement on the part of officers and directors of the company. The matters involved are part of the endeavor to make final the appointment of a receiver and secure supplementary testimony from the United States Shipbuilding Company.

WILL GIVE A LECTURE.

The people of Oakland who are interested in Theosophy are to have the pleasure of listening to Charles W. Leadbeater of London, England, who is now on the coast working in the interest of the Theosophical Society. He is one of the leading authors and lecturers of the day on Theosophical subjects. Mr. Leadbeater is a profound student and has studied and lectured in many countries. He is now touring the United States. The first lecture will be given on Friday evening at Hamilton Hall building.

MORE RUSSIAN ATROCITIES.

WHY CROCKER IS STRONG.

By a strange irony of fate the announcement of the czar's demand that the Sultan institute reforms in Macedonia by which the Christian population will be given better protection and a larger measure of liberty, comes simultaneously with the news of fresh outrages on the Jews in Russia. For the third time within a few months, insensate mobs have massacred, plundered, maltreated and outraged Jews in widely separated sections of the Empire.

The outrages perpetrated by the Turks on the Christians in Macedonia have not been more barbarous and ruthless than the outrages committed by Christians on Jews in Russia. And the provocation for the unspeakable atrocities of which Jews are the victims are much less provoked than are the Moslem outrages in Macedonia. The Jews have done nothing to invite this awful mistreatment; they have not retaliated or even resorted to armed resistance. Each outbreak of popular fury against them has been preceded by public agitation encouraged more or less by the government authorities. When the outbreaks came the police made scarcely a show of protecting the Jews.

The pretended efforts to suppress the riots have been farcical. Evidence accumulates that the anti-Jewish agitation is directed and inspired by government agents and the orthodox clergy. While the czar is making a show of protecting Christians in another country his emissaries are inciting the most horrible atrocities in his own dominions. Yet Russia claims to be a civilized Christian country. The Turks have never treated the people they have conquered worse than the Russians are treating the Jews, Poles and Finns. Until her infamous domestic policy is changed Russia has no right to pose as the protector of the oppressed in other lands.

Senator Hanna's stomach trouble exhibits peculiar phases. It is giving the Democratic editors the gripes.

There is a languid desire to see whether Lewis Nixon will get more votes as a candidate for Mayor of New York than Big Chief Devery. The sports are inclined to bunch their bets on Devery.

The municipal campaign in San Francisco waxes bitter. It is now charged with considerable heat and rancor that Henry J. Crocker is a gentleman. With a singular disregard of the iniquity this implies, Mr. Crocker has not even denied the accusation.

DEVONSHIRE FOR FREE TRADE.

It is plain there is to be a new alignment of parties in Great Britain, and this new alignment will not only dissolve the political alliance of the Liberal Unionists with the Tories, but will cleave the Conservative party itself. The resignation of the Duke of Devonshire as Lord President of the Privy Council throws that great peacock among his ancient political associates. The Duke of Devonshire has always been among the leaders of the great Whig peers who finally came to constitute the aristocratic section of the Liberal party. These great nobles were not Liberals in the sense that Cobden, Peel, the Brights and Gladstone were Liberals, but they were more liberal than the Tory or Conservative party, and allied themselves with the Liberal party because its principles more nearly conformed to their ideas than did the stolid conservatism of the Tories.

His Grace of Devonshire, like the Duke of Argyll, abandoned the Liberal party in company with Joseph Chamberlain and the Bright brothers when Gladstone made Home Rule for Ireland the leading measure of Liberal policy. When the coalition of Tories and Liberal Unionists overthrew the Roseberry administration, the Duke of Devonshire took office with Chamberlain under the Tory government. Now the Duke cuts himself loose from both Balfour and Chamberlain. He must again range himself with Sir Vernon Harcourt and John Morley. It is fiscal policy and not Imperialism that marks the line of division.

There is to be a renewal of the great conflict that raged from 1829 to the year the Catholic Emancipation bill was passed, 1847. Again the battle lines have been fought and won by Cobden is to be waged. This time the issue is over more momentous than it was when the Corn Laws were repealed. For the first time in fifty-six years the tariff is to be the issue. Certainly the growth of protection sentiment in Great Britain must have been enormous during the past ten years to admit of the settled policy of the Empire being balked with such startling abruptness. The tariff issue was not more suddenly thrust on the people of the United States in 1887 than it has been thrust upon England in 1903. The issue there has aroused the same intense interest that Cleveland's tariff message provoked in this country. Will the struggle end across the water or end here?

The Republican campaign in San Francisco starts off in a way to strongly indicate the election of Henry J. Crocker. The unanimity with which business men are rallying behind him and the push and energy with which they are working to promote his candidacy all point to a heavy vote in his favor, especially among the thoughtful, conservative elements of society. Mr. Crocker appeals to men of substance because he is neither a politician nor a demagogue. He cares nothing for office for the money that is in it, or for the gratification many men find in holding high office. In the estimation of the people of San Francisco he stands as high in being plain Henry J. Crocker as he would as Mayor. His election to the Mayoralty cannot improve his standing in the community, but as Mayor he will adorn and elevate the tone of that office.

He will bring to it dignity and respect. He will not only give his time to the city, but will devote to its service a robust, magnetic personality, coupled with a vigorous understanding and the pride an enlightened public-spirited citizen feels in the progress and welfare of the city in which he makes his home. Not alone does Mr. Crocker possess the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens, but he carries a personal influence that is a powerful factor in directing and strengthening movements to better municipal conditions and promote projects for public advancement. His wealth, liberality and high character place him above suspicion of self seeking or of being actuated by any motive other than honest desire to promote the welfare and advancement of the city.

These considerations appeal strongly to reflecting men, especially to those engaged in business. A business administration conducted in a broad, progressive spirit, and directed by a man of education, character, ability and property, promises a great deal for San Francisco at this juncture, when the city is about to inaugurate a comprehensive scheme of improvements costing many millions. The municipal board is having charge of these improvements will be appointed by the Mayor, who if the right kind of a man, will exert a commanding influence in directing public works. Mr. Crocker possesses precisely the qualities needed in the Mayor's chair. The more his candidacy is examined the stronger this fact appeals to sensible men of all parties, and that appears to be the chief reason why Mr. Crocker is so popular with the solid men of the community.

Congress wouldn't allow Oklahoma to become a state on the ground that it was too broad new, but Oklahoma is shipping peaches to England all the same. A carload shipped from Guthrie was recently sold in London for $21 per bushel. That price means pretty nifty fruit.

The extra session is objected to on the ground that there is not time enough for Senator Morgan to deliver the long talk in twenty days. Can't he be induced to tell his speech on the floor of the capitol, as Martin Luther nailed the ninety-five theses on the door of the Wittenberg University.

The accusation of bad faith that Balfour fretfully brings against the Duke of Devonshire is rather comic in view of the rather shabby trick Balfour himself played on Lord George Hamilton and Chancellor Ritchie. He informed the Duke of Devonshire of Chamberlain's resignation, but concealed it from the others. This trickery enabled him to give Ritchie's place to Austen Chamberlain, which is strong presumptive proof that he has a perfect understanding with the former Colonial Secretary. It was the conviction that Balfour was dealing double with him as he did with Ritchie, probably, that caused the Duke to change his mind about remaining in the Cabinet. He was likely to be suspected himself of being a party to the policy of deception.

Rev. F. W. Campbelt, rector of one of the fashionable Episcopal churches in San Francisco, has explained what he believes in way of doctrine. Now if he will tell us what he practices we will be in a better position to estimate the quality of his brand of religion.

WILD FLOWERS.

Scarce known by name, they pile the ground.

With mellow colors, stately forms, in the sunset skies are found.

That follow after storms;

And in the crimson, blue and gold, their graceful shadows unfold.

While the dead leaves pile and rot,

Humble they live and die content.

Huge oaks above them lift their heads

And drop the acorn, shed the leaf,

The harvest field for round them sheds

Plenty in many a sheaf;

And they, half fragrant, brighten earth,

Low in the shadows where there's death.

Of pain or pleasure, love or life,

Far from the world's mad, ceaseless strife.

They speak no message, act no part,

They have no words to show.

Deep hidden here they touch no heart,

And do not ask to know.

Yet if we meet the eye of man

It all unfolded the Master plan.

The lower that pointed this fair bloom,

For man can have no futile doom.

HINTS FOR THE LADIES

SANG A SOLO AT

SAN LEANDRO.

Braid trimming is modish and sou-tache braid appears on many of the newest gowns.

Lovely designs in pompadour silks are exhibited in the shops and extensively used for evening gowns.

Some of the jeweled effects in lamp and electric light shades look as if they were hacked out of a mine and simply stuck together.

Pendent mirrors are among the novelties that my lady will indulge in this fall. They are very artistic novelties and are on sale at from 50 cents up to $5 each.

A small but very complete coffee mill is in metal and is about an inch square. When one turns the tiny handle one grinds out not coffee but a very useful looking tape measure.

Strainers which are made to fit a cup or a good-sized bowl are among the kitchen conveniences, as they give the user the advantage of using both hands while straining juice for jellies or other goodies.

The shops are urging every one to celebrate the coming centennial celebration by offering great bargains in silk, bunting or muslin flags along with flagstaffs and flagstaff holders. They are shown in all sizes and prices.

There is a great fad for knitted shawls these days, and the shops are offering some excellent bargains in these dainty fluffy coverings. Knitted silk shawls in cream color can be purchased from $5 up, while some lovely designs in knitted silk shawls can be had at from $1.50 up to $2.25 each.

In accordance with a superstitious custom a Hungarian girl was entering a chapel in Staranovayes to toll the bell during a thunderstorm to ward off lightning when the chapel was struck and the girl killed.

It is Russia we have to go to see the woman doctor in any numbers, although there are a fair number in the United States. Among the wild and scattered population of Russia there is an inexhaustible field for women as doctors and teachers, and it is the knowledge of this fact which has alarmed the opposition to their going through universities. In 1897 Russia had 97 women doctors and the number constantly increases. In this profession Russian women have made a distinguished name.

A Japanese wedding is a quaintly pretty ceremony. The bride, dressed in a white silk kimono and white veil, sits on the floor facing her affianced husband. Near them are two tables, upon one of which are two cups, a bottle of sake and a kettle with two spouts. On the other are a miniature plum tree, typifying the beauty of the bride; a miniature fir tree, representing the strength of the bridegroom; and a stork standing on a tortoise, signifying long life and felicity. The bride and bridegroom drink alternately from the two-spouted kettle in token that they will henceforth share each other's joys and sorrows. After the wedding the bride's veil is laid away to be used as her shroud when she dies.

Every German girl, whether nobly born or of humble circumstances, undergoes a course of cookery. The empress herself is an excellent cook and intends her little daughter to become one also. It is at present the pet hobby of the little Princess Victoria Louise to busy herself in the miniature kitchen which has been fitted up for her in the palace at Potsdam. It is quite perfect of its kind, with its own tables and pots and pans and shining stove, and it is said to be a quaint sight when the imperial chef gives a lesson to the dainty dishes which the Kaiser and Kaiserin have to taste and pass an opinion upon, and one can imagine how the young princess, after the manner of broths the world over, consume the dainties, while making disparaging remarks.

Rev. Mr. Daseion of New York, who has been chosen the head of the Paulist Fathers for the ensuing three years, was a classmate of General Grant at West Point. He had then no thought of entering the priesthood. As a disciplinarian he is indulgent of individual temperament, but exacting in his demands for the perfect execution of tasks assigned.

Don Park, aged 22 years, who runs a confectionery store at Kearney, is the smallest man in Missouri. He is 42 inches tall and weighs 56 pounds. He weighed only 13 pounds when he was five years old. His parents were larger than the average and he has four brothers and sisters who are of medium size. Mr. Park is not badly shaped, and differs from the rest of mankind only in being small. He traveled with a circus several years, but so disliked to be stared at that he quit the business.

A Cartago (Mo.) boy was passing a grocery store the other night, when he saw a burglar inside. He ran and told the police and a crowd gathered to see the rogue caught. The police went inside, hunted all over the store, and were unable to find him. The boy insisted. He could not doubt the evidence of his own eyes. He stepped in front of the store window and saw the man again. He jumped back and the man jumped, too. The boy had raised the entire hullabaloo over the reflection of his own figure in the show window.

The new Lord Salisbury, hitherto known as Lord Cranborne, is 49. He entered the House of Commons at the age of 24 as member of the Darwen division of Lancashire, for which he was elected in 1862. He was elected in 1862, when he was defeated. In the following year he was returned for Rochester. As lieutenant colonel of the 4th battalion, Bedfordshire regiment, he served with distinction in the South African war and was mentioned in dispatches, resuming on his return the post of under secretary for foreign affairs, which he has held since 1900.

Kipling throws a great deal of his work into the waste basket, but it is some time since any of it went into such a receptacle owned by some other power. He feels that, having won a reputation, it is his duty to write up to it. On one occasion, when in a heroic mood, it is said that he destroyed a whole book. The title of this unborn work was "Forty-five Mornings." After it was finished he asked Robert Barr to read it. As good as "Blair Tales," it was Mr. Barr's verdict. "Not better," said Kipling. "I don't think it is," answered Barr. "Then it will never be published," it was Kipling's unexpected reply, and it was destroyed forthwith.

The discovery of the mummy of a cliff dweller was made last week by Mrs. Jeannette R. Newcomer, wife of John Newcomer, assistant state attorney of Chicago, in an excavation made by her in a burial village in the Grand canyon of the Colorado. The mummy was taken in Chicago and is now at the Newcomer home. It will probably be given to a local educational institution. The mummy is said to be the most perfect of its kind ever found. It is that of a man about 3 1/2 feet tall. On one side of the head there is a mass of soft brown hair. All of the teeth are perfect. The lower portion of the body was wrapped in a coarse sackcloth. The right leg below the knee had crumbled away.

The initiative faculty is the most valuable mental gift which a civil servant can possess, says the London Daily Chronicle, as his success largely depends upon his ability to report official formulas and to write documents in the style of his superiors, who will sign them. Here is a letter from a gold coast postman to his postmaster: "Dear Master—I have the pleasure to regret to inform you that when I go to bath today a blow will remove my trousers. UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA STUDENTS, WHO WILL TAKE PART IN THE ENTERTAINMENT TO BE HELD AT IDORA PARK TONIGHT FOR THE BENEFIT OF INTERCOLLEGIATE ROWING.

Reading from left to right the names of the players are: R. L. Goldberg, Lambert Coblenz and D. W. Eisbee. BERKELEY, October 7.—That they may assist the University of California Boating Club and incidentally give an impetus to intercollegiate aquatic sports, hundreds of collegians are expected to throng Idora Park tonight. The amusement grounds and theater will be turned over to the students, who have been working for several weeks on an elaborate program for the entertainment of their guests. While prominent college men will "specify" for the various attractions and peanut and popcorn stands about the grounds, the principal amusement will be in the theater, where a vaudeville show will be put on. The program for the show is as follows: Club-swinging, H. W. Schreiber of the class of 1907; sketch, "The Three Brodelikes," "Doo" Blesbee, '09; "Rube" Goldberg, '04; Lambert Coblenz, '04; slight-of-hand, Reginald Palmer, parodies, Walter de Leon, '06; and Howard Merrill, '04; selections, University Banjo Club; song, "It Was the Dutch," Leland McVey, '05; and Edwin Rust, '06; Berkeley Quartet; song, "The Castle on the Nile," "Rush" McCormack, '04; Fred Barry, '02; and Charles Treble, '04. In addition to this the Idora Park Orchestra will play special college music. The manager for the evening, E. S. Hawley, is being assisted by W. G. Dandy and Walter Stalder.

TILLMAN'S TRIAL IS RESUMED.

WITNESSES FOR THE DEFENSE SAY THAT GONZALES MADE THREATS TO KILL. LEXINGTON, S. C., Oct. 7.—The trial of J. R. Tillman was resumed today. The juror, Milton Sharp, who has been sick, having improved sufficiently to permit him to be in court. The State rested without the introduction of further testimony. The witness entered at once upon the presentation of his case. The first witness called by the defense was D. M. Mitchell, who lived in Columbus in 1902. He testified that he had a conversation with Gonzales relative to Tillman, reading what he stated Gonzales said concerning the defendant. The witness said, "I can slap his face and he would not resent it, and he said, if he ever beat his own man, I'll fill him so full of lead that he will never rise to it off." The witness said that he subsequently told Mr. Tillman what he stated Mr. Gonzales said to him. On cross-examination he said he freed the conversation on Mr. Gonzales. A. K. Flower, formerly a street car conductor in Columbus, testified that in 1902 Gonzales and three other men were riding collecting fares when they were discussing politics, and that he heard Gonzales say if Tillman was elected he would never be seated. The witness added that he heard Gonzales say he would "kill the rascal." On cross-examination the witness said he had not told of this until two months ago, and said that he first wrote it to the defendant.

UNION MEN HOLD MEETINGS

ALL IS HARMONY AMONG THE RETAIL DRIVERS OF THE CITY.

At the meeting of the Cooks' and Waiters' Union, yesterday afternoon the committee appointed to organize the local hotels and boarding-houses reported satisfactory progress. A meeting will be held Saturday in the headquarters of the union at Eighth street and Broadway, to which all interested in the movement, employers and employees alike, are invited. Refinements will be served and addresses made by labor leaders. Three new members were initiated into the union and three applications added to the six already on file. Julius Delemon and Business Agent Perry Conwell were appointed a committee to see about purchasing a piano for the recreation room in the headquarters. Five members were fined ten cents each for being absent from the meetings without a valid excuse. Perry Conwell was chosen to act as floor manager for the annual dance which is to be held on Thursday evening, October 9.

The resignation of Mr. Conwell as business agent of the union was referred to the executive board, which was given full power to act in the matter. The board will meet this afternoon to consider the resignation. Conwell also resigned the treasurer to purchase twenty-five tickets and destroy them immediately. Secretary William Grunning announced that all those who had tickets to the dance were to return to him tomorrow evening. He will be at Cooks' and Waiters' headquarters tomorrow afternoon to receive the tickets and settle up accounts with the ticket-sellers.

CARMEN TONIGHT. The local union of street railway employees meets tonight in Gar Hall on Fourteenth street. The committee appointed some time ago to draft a new constitution and by-laws will make its report. The new ferry company has tendered to the Carmen's Benevolent Association the use of one of the boats to convey San Francisco guests to and from the dance Saturday night. The steamer will leave the Santa Fe ferry slip at the foot of Market street at 6:30 o'clock, and returning will leave the Emeryville pier at midnight. The trains for the Oakland guests will leave the corner of Fortieth street and San Pablo avenue every half hour, from 7 to 9 o'clock. Returning the trains will leave the end of the pier every half hour, from 10 until 12 o'clock. As there are only a limited number of cars all the guests cannot wait until the last train, so some of them will be obliged to leave earlier. In the evening, a committee of the association will be on the train and look to collect tickets and look after the passengers. Another committee will direct the members around the dance and try to prevent any accidents or damage to the company's property. The company has tendered the services of the First Regiment Orchestra to play for the dance.

CONSIDER BARTENDERS' SCHEDULE. The executive committee of the Federated Trades Council will meet tonight in Cooks' and Waiters' headquarters to consider the new schedule drawn up by the Bartenders' Union and presented to the council for endorsement.

STABLEMEN. There was no business to come before the Stablemen's Union last night, so the meeting adjourned after the reading of the minutes of the previous session.

LABOR DAY COMMITTEE. A meeting of the Labor Day committee was scheduled for last evening in Cooks' and Waiters' headquarters, but some of the members were unable to be present, and the reports were not all in, so it was decided to postpone the session until next Monday night.

CIGARMAKERS. Three new members were initiated into the Cigarmakers' Union at the monthly meeting held last evening in Kohler and LARGE INCREASE IN DEATH RATE IN THE ISLANDS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—An increase in the death rate in the army in the Philippines from 13.96 per thousand in 1901 to 15.49 per thousand in 1902 is shown in the annual report of Surgeon-General R. M. O'Reilly for the fiscal year ended June 30. This increase is attributed to cholera, which caused 354 deaths per thousand. A slight improvement shows in the admission rate for disease and injury which declined from 1791.59 per thousand in 1901 to 1716.51 per thousand in 1902. Discussion of other features of the health of the army, Surgeon-General O'Reilly's report says: "The enrollment of about 600 native Filipino scouts having added a new racial element to the army, it becomes a matter of much interest to study the comparative effects of disease on them and on our white and colored troops. For the whole army, at home and abroad, during the year 1902, the white troops showed an admission rate of 1706.33 per thousand and a death rate of 14.40. The negro troops had 1897.74 admissions and 24.11 deaths per thousand and the Malay scouts 1707.21 admissions and 24.44 deaths per thousand. The white race showed the lowest figures in sickness and much the lowest mortality. The black race led in both, although the Malay closely approached it in death rate. "The freedom of Filipino from the vice of drunkenness strikingly shown when we find that out of 500 men, only three individuals were treated for alcoholism in one year, and that while white soldiers were admitted to sick report on account of their own misconduct in the use of alcohol at the rate of 24.78 per thousand and colored troops at the rate of 11.70, the Malay scouts showed the extremely small admission rate of .02 per thousand.

ENGAGEMENT OF A BERKELEY GIRL.

MISS M. GRACE RICHARDSON. BERKELEY, October 7.—The engagement has just been announced of Miss M. Grace Richardson, formerly a well-known newspaper writer of this city, to Frank E. Nelson, a prominent mining man of Priest River, Idaho. The wedding will take place in a few days at Spokane, Washington. Miss Richardson has lived in Berkeley since 1881 and since that time has been an active member of the First Presbyterian Church. As a leading member of the King's Daughters and the Berkeley Benevolent Society, she did considerable charitable work. "You do not take much interest in baseball?" "No," answered Mr. Richardson. "I never could understand why it should be so hard to throw a ball straight when it is so easy to send an egg straight to the mark."

The steadily increasing prevalence of venereal disease is the most discouraging feature in the sick report of the army. During 1902, 13,460 admissions were from this cause alone, equivalent to a rate of 80.94 per thousand. Admissions to sick report from alcoholism in 1902 were a slightly in excess of the number (including volunteers) for 1901. A total number of 1839 cases, equivalent to 22.65 per thousand of strength, occurred. It is impossible not to attribute a large part of the steadily increasing venereal disease of the army to the loss of the canteen, where the soldier, if he so desired, could get his beer throughout the month, but was not subjected to the temptations to intemperance and the vice attendant upon the expenditure of a full month's pay at the low resorts infesting the outskirts of our military reservations.

A slight diminution of insanity occurred in the army during 1902. There were 133 new cases, equivalent to the admission rate of 1.71 per thousand, which is almost identical with the rate for the decade 1891 to 1890.

WAYWARD YOUNG GIRL.

Lizzie Armstrong, a 16-year-old girl, ran away from her home at 833 Kirkham street about two weeks ago and the police have been hunting for her. Yesterday she was found at Vallejo with a man named Fred Houser, an alleged prize fighter. She was arrested by Officer McKeehan and brought to the city jail. Houser was taken into custody at Vallejo and held there. Although the girl was in the company of Houser it is not believed that he is responsible for her going away from home, but that she is naturally wayward. Lizzie will probably be sent to the Reform School.

NEWS FROM ALAMEDA

TELL OF HEALTH OF CITY.

ENCINAL CITY SHOWN TO BE IN SANITARY CONDITION.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 7.—A regular meeting of the Alameda Board of Health was held last night at which were present Drs. Stafford, Van Orden and Stephens. The board decided by resolution that hereafter all bacteriological and microscopical work should be done in the private laboratory by Dr. L. W. Stidham. This work has hitherto been performed outside by Drs. Brown and Stidham. The board's attention was called to the chicken nuisance which is at present causing neighbors of fowl owners no little annoyance and inconvenience. The matter was finally referred to the Committee of Street and Yard Sanitation.

Eugene C. Maillet, sanitary inspector, submitted his report for the month of September as follows: Alameda, October 6, 1903. To the Honorable, the Board of Health: The following is a report of the work done under my supervision during the month of September, 1903: Number of premises inspected, 44; re-inspections made, 10; nuisances abated, 4; houses fumigated, 4; inspections of plumbing in old houses, 9; inspections of plumbing in new houses, 10; final inspections of old houses, 16; final inspections of new houses, 4; sewers inspected, 8; Chinese and Japanese inspected, 34. Collected $1 for fumigating house by request. Respectfully submitted, E. C. MAILLET, Sanitary Inspector.

Twelve deaths were registered in Alameda during the month of September, according to the report made at the Board of Health meeting last night. The causes of death were as follows: Diphtheria, 1; septicaemia, 1; constitutional diseases, 2; scintilla, 1; meningitis, 2; pulmonary diseases, 1; cerebral thrombi, 1; pneumonia, 1; cirrhosis, 1; suicide, 1; total, 12. As Alameda has an estimated population of 20,000, the death rate per 1000 is very low, only six. At this rate the annual death rate per 1000 would only be seventy-two, which speaks well for Alameda as a healthful center. On the other hand, the number of births for the past month was large, thirty-two. The number of children coming to increase the population of this number nineteen were males and eighteen females.

TWO KILLED BY A BURGLAR.

DESPERATE FELLOW MURDERS PURSUERS AND MAKES ESCAPE.

BURNS, Oct. 7.—News has just reached here that John M. Saxton, a lawyer of this place, and Jack West, a Deputy Sheriff, were killed 135 miles south of here, October 4th, in a battle with John Frost, alias Harry Egbert, a fugitive burglar, wanted in Douglas county.

Frost had been arrested by Saxton on September 25th, but made his escape and succeeded in eluding the officers until October 4th, when they came upon him at the ranch of Charles Fields in Wild Horse valley. After the house and West approached the corner of the house. West was hit in the back at the first fire and fell, mortally wounded. Frost then took shelter in the house and Saxton followed him. The men commenced firing at one another through a thin board partition. After exchanging a number of shots, Frost took to the upper story and West before he died called Saxton to bring him water. While Saxton was giving the water to the wounded man Frost shot him through the breast. After he had killed both his pursuers, Frost secured a horse and rode away. The Harvey county officials have offered a reward of $500 for Frost's capture.

NEW COLONIAL SECRETARY POPULAR.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., October 7.—The appointment of the Hon. Alfred Lyttelton as Secretary for the Colonies is warmly welcomed here. The new administration, which is expected to take office in a month in Newfoundland last summer, being arbitrator in the claim of the Reid Railway Company against the Newfoundland Government. He studied local affairs, visited the French shore and fully posted himself on colonial issues, so that he will be able to intelligently consider the Newfoundland question. The Government sent him a warm telegram of congratulation.

ACCUSED OFFICER.

Charles McArthur was arrested by Officer Keefe and charged with being drunk. McArthur is very wrath over the matter and alleges that the officer knocked him off a stool and clubbed him unnecessarily, and asserts that he will prefer charges against him. He will have an opportunity to tell his troubles in the Police Court on the 13th—said Officer Keefe goes about his business just as if McArthur was off the earth.

STOLE CARPENTER'S TOOLS.

Police headquarters have been advised that some carpenter's tools belonging to H. E. Brown were stolen last night from a house in process of construction at 28 Spring street, near Piedmont avenue, and the officer has been asked to assist in their recovery and the apprehension of the thief.

STOLE HER WATCH.

Mrs. Clara Thomas of 806 Chestnut street has reported to Chief Hodgkins that her residence was entered yesterday afternoon by some sneak thief who took away with him a lady's hunting watch with black ribbon and heart locket. The value of the property stolen was about $30.

EDUCATORS HOLD LODGE TO STAGE "PENELOPE."

SCHOOL BOARD DISPOSES OF SEVERAL IMPORTANT MATTERS.

ALAMEDA, October 7.—The Board of Education held a regular meeting last night, all members being present. For the first time since his appointment, Director Michael took his seat as a member of the Board. The usual amount of routine work was transacted. The most important matter to come before the Board was that of remodeling the Everett grammar school. A number of bids were received, the lowest being that of Hunt & Grant, who offered to do the work for $20,000. The school board fund will permit the directors to pay a special meeting between Hunt & Grant and the Board will be held next Tuesday evening when, if possible, the cost will be shaved down to $1500. Hugo Weil asked permission from the Board to take pictures of the grammar school classes and sell them to the pupils. Permission was not granted. Miss Agnes Strookoff, of the Longfellow school, was reported as being on her annual vacation. Miss Alice Hunt is taking Miss Strookoff's place. The Porter and Wilson grammar schools were each granted small much-needed supplies. E. Lessen offered to supply as many Seth Thomas program clocks as the Board would need at $200 a piece, and the same style clock of $100 a piece for $150 a piece. The proposition was referred to the program clock committee. It was decided by resolution to expend the library fund for the purpose of purchasing elementary books. Several other matters of little interest were considered, after which the meeting adjourned.

NO MID-TERM VACATION. ALAMEDA, October 7.—There will be no mid-winter vacation for school pupils this year. This was decided upon by the Board of Education last night. The pupils have already had several days' vacation during the month of September, and it was deemed advisable to close the school another week. The mid-winter vacation usually occurs about the middle of October.

HIGH SCHOOL LACKS BINS. ALAMEDA, October 7.—I developed at the Board of Education meeting last night that the Alameda High School, which was built the early part of this summer, had no coal bins or accommodations of any sort for holding fuel. There is, however, no danger of each student having to bring his or her own supply of coal to school every day during the winter, for the board will immediately set to work to remedy the difficulty.

FIRE HORSES SECURED. ALAMEDA, October 7.—Chairman Hammond of the Fire Committee has finally succeeded in purchasing a suitable team for the Chestnut street engine-house. The horses were purchased yesterday in Oakland and were delivered to the engine-house this afternoon.

VETERINARY CARPENTER'S REPORT. ALAMEDA, October 7.—At the meeting of the Health Board last night Veterinary Inspector Carpenter made the following report for the month of September: Inspections of grocery and produce stores, 33; inspections of bakeries and restaurants, 15; inspections of butcher shops, 11; number of packages of food stuffs condemned, 31; inspections of dairies, 25; number of milk tests conducted, 44; average per cent. of butter fat, 16.7; average per cent. of cream, 17.1; number of cows examined, 408; number of cows condemned, 12; number of horses treated and examined for city department, 8.

PISOLI-BATES NUPRIALS. ALAMEDA, October 7.—The wedding of Miss Lucy Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bates of 2126 Central avenue, and Charles Pisoli of Alameda will be celebrated at the home of the bride's parents this evening. Rev. Dr. Guthrie, rector of Christ Church will perform the ceremony. The bride is a favorite in her society and the groom is a son of the French Consul at Philadelphia. The young couple will reside in this city.

SEVERE WIND STORM.

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 7.—A severe wind and rain storm here early today caused several thousand dollars' damage. The storm travelled at the velocity of a tornado. The electric light plant was damaged badly and the city will be in darkness for several days.
